

Take time to make the most of your time.

Track how you spend your time on a typical day.

Identify times that promote unhealthy habits.

Make time daily and weekly for physical activities and downtime.

Establish boundaries for how much time you will spend on your digital devices.

